

Lise Worthen-Chaudhari, PhD, MFA, CMES connects health science to the creative arts at The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center. Seeking to drive neurorecovery from chemotherapy-induced functional deficits such as neuropathy, Worthen-Chaudhari applies principles from dance, biomechanics, and motor learning to design and evaluate interventions. Her work is funded by the National Institutes of Health and has been commercialized by Columbus-based start up, Rekovo.