

Biography – Dr. Gregg Nelson

Dr. Gregg Nelson is Professor of Obstetrics & Gynecology and Oncology at the Cumming School of Medicine, University of Calgary in Alberta, Canada and is Section Head of Gynecologic Oncology at the Tom Baker Cancer Centre. His principal research interests are: i) HPV vaccination in First Nation's populations, and ii) the development and study of Enhanced Recovery After Surgery (ERAS) protocols in OB-Gyn and cancer surgery. He holds the position of Co-Chair Enhanced Recovery Canada™ and leads the ERAS® Society Women's Health Chapter that published the ERAS® Guidelines for Gynecologic/Oncology Surgery, and ERAS® Guidelines for Cesarean Delivery. Dr. Nelson has received over $7,000,000 in grant funding, authored >200 peer-reviewed publications, and is the lead editor of the ERAS® Society Handbook for Obstetrics & Gynecology (Elsevier). He has been invited to present numerous times internationally, serves as the Social Media Editor of Gynecologic Oncology and Gynecologic Oncology Reports, and is the Treasurer of the ERAS® Society. Dr. Nelson recently has been named Chair of the Gynecologic Oncology Specialty Committee at the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.